

Cancun Trade and Development Symposium
Simposio sobre Comercio y Desarrollo, Cancún
Symposium sur le Commerce et le Développement, Cancun

Session 2.3

How Can Trade Stimulate Sustainable Development in Agriculture?

11 September 2003, 14:30-18:30, Picasso Room

Agenda

- 14:30 pm            Introduction
- The Trade Knowledge Network: Linking Sustainable Development, National Trade issues and the WTO policies, David Boyer (International Institute for Sustainable Development)
- 14:45 pm            How Can Trade Stimulate Sustainable Development in Agriculture
- Moderator: Ricardo Meléndez-Ortiz (International Centre for Trade and Sustainable Development)
- Green Markets: Often a Lost Opportunity for Developing Markets? A Case Study of Chile and The EU, Nicola Borregard (Recursos e Investigación para el Desarrollo Sustentable)
- New Views of Trade and Sustainable Development: Using Sen's Conception of Development to Re-examine the Debates (Presentation), (Paper), Aaron Cosby (International Institute for Sustainable Development)
- The Relation between Trade and Development of Sustainable Agriculture in Central America, Carlos Murrillo (Centro Internacional de Política Económica)
- Domestic Import Regulations for Genetically Modified Organisms and their Compatibility with WTO Rules: Some Key Issues, Heike Baumüller (International Centre for Trade and Sustainable Development)
- 16:15 pm            Panel questions and discussion